

OVERVIEW

Atlantic Technology Group combines Staging and Distribution Services out of our headquarters located in Gaithersburg, MD. Strategically co-located next to a major UPS center, ATG is well positioned to service clients nationwide. Our mission is to manage the wireless data technology acquisition cycle, reduce costs, shorten cycle time and ensure accuracy.

STAGING CENTER BENEFITS

The primary value added benefit of ATG Staging Center to our clients is the use of our facilities and services as a pre-deployment, customized entry portal. Our services provide a consistent, repeatable and reliable entry process allowing our clients to predict and manage the manner which their data wireless devices enter their environment, thus reducing costly deployment and support cost. ATG Staging Center becomes our clients wireless data device entry portal.

Using our service and facilities allow our clients to manage product rollouts, maintaining a consistent high level of quality for the entire deployment.
